RT Abbott Construction

Simi Valley, California 93065

To Whom It May Concern:

My wife and I were referred to RT Abbott Construction many years ago and since then we have had two of our homes remodeled by them. The work was gorgeous, the projects ran beautifully and we couldn't be more thankful.

Obviously by using them a second, time, we were tremendously pleased with the outcome because of their dedication, workmanship and pride put forth in each project.

Roy was very hands on and always available to answer any questions or concerns we may have had, he is honest, straight forward and an excellent leader. The Project Managers were very professional and detailed and saw to it that the daily operations were without major issues. The relationship they have with the architect and sub-contractors helped the projects run smoothly and without delays.

We refer RT Abbott Construction to friends, recommend them to anyone in need of an outstanding general contractor and look forward to working with them again in the future.

Sincerely,

David J. Haddad
