To Whom It May Concern:

Roy Abbott, alongside his team, notably his project manager Jeff Mochrie, are the epitome of quality, integrity and class. It is with great enthusiasm that my wife Hilary and I write this letter of recommendation in support of RT Abbott Construction. Roy Abbott and his entire team were a delight to work with. The pride that they took in their work was evident, and their extensive homebuilding and construction experience was obvious right from the start.

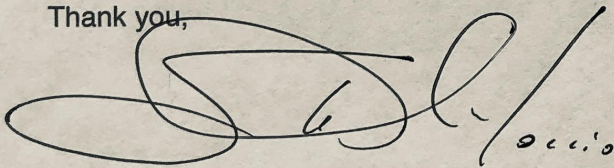

As an artist myself, details are paramount to my creations, and this is perhaps one of RTA's greatest qualities, they simply get it. It is a privilege to live, walk and exist in a home built with love by Roy and his team. It is palpable from the moment one steps foot on the floors, or opens a door, everything feels 'right', and short cuts are not an option with Roy and Jeff. From our first meeting, we were impressed with the quality of workmanship and professionalism.

Communication and attention to our needs were steadfast throughout the entire process. Jeff Mochrie our project manager kept us diligently informed with every detail. The experience was stress-free and enjoyable. Everyone at RT Abbott helped us realize our dream home through meticulous planning, craftsmanship and design. They were always pleasant and courteous, as were the subcontractors.

Roy... your professionalism, attention to detail and confidence made this experience so positive for us. RTA not only met us at our discriminating level of excellence, they surpassed it, restoring our faith in the construction process, demonstrating that it can be enjoyable, and that people do deliver on their word.

We will forever recommend RT Abbott Construction to anyone who desires the best in home construction. Without exaggeration, you have our greatest admiration for making our dream a reality. We love our home, and we would not hesitate to build again with Roy and his team.

Thank you,
